Welcome to our special Sports Week Edition of The Chadsgrove Chronicle.
Well done to everyone who has taken part in school and at home.

Ania we like the broom to stop you stepping too far forward. A fair game is what we like to see.

Billy you have participated in so much. Well done.

Cerys this looks like a serious game of Boccia.
We hope you won.

Daisy your flag painting is brilliant and we can see your guttering ready for you to roll that ball.
Your first trip out to the park after 3 months was well deserved.

Dan well done on trying hard to spin that hoop; it's not easy.

Holly joined in some of the sensory games.
Well done Holly.

Fern we aren't sure you liked that smell.

Tim joined in the sensory games and made his flag.

Jess and Jimmy have both joined in the sensory games and made flags. Well done.

Josh well done on joining in at home and in school. We hope Mom is impressed with how much you know.

Rosie has also joined in with some sensory activities. You look like you've had a good time and the weather looks beautiful too Rosie.

Ryan working with his brother exploring different textures.

The beautiful weather we have been enjoying has certainly helped to make sports day successful. Well done everyone. Lauren’s ball rolling skills were a hit and Alex and Dominic are enjoying the balloons.

‘Keepy Uppy’ and painting flags appear to have been a hit with the children and adults alike. Jack, Katie, Esme and Ryan all took part. Who doesn’t like to bat a balloon once it’s blown up?

As well as Sports Day we have been running our ‘Chadsgrove’s Got Talent’ competition. A fantastic showcase of our very talented pupils! Thank you and well done to all those who took part. Everyone has enjoyed watching it and is amazed by your outstanding skills.

Here’s the link to our super talented pupils.

A massive thank you to all the families for supporting School Games Week. I have loved looking at the amazing pictures you have sent in and in particular how siblings have assisted with the events. Particular highlights include 14US House Music Zoom call, the numerous types of skittles and cricket wickets, the balloon Keepy Uppies (80 was the top score), the creative objects used for the sensory adventure, the flags and Chadsgrove’s Got Talent. Thank you to those families who used surveymonkey to send the results it made collating the results much easier. The delivery team will be delivering Certificates and medals next week.

Sports Day News will be in next week’s Edition.

SCIENTIST OF THE WEEK

Another scientist of the week from 14US this week – they are storming ahead!

A huge well done to...

Fern

who has also been getting green fingers in the garden and has been planting tomatoes and sunflowers.

Well done Fern!

I also wanted to share this fabulous photo of Jimmy with his Certificate for being our ‘Scientist of the Week’ last week!

If you’ve been up to anything at home whether its gardening, cooking, wildlife watching, water play or experiments then send me some pictures and you could also be our ‘Scientist of the Week’!

Remember to check out the science section on the website for some home learning ideas and please keep sending your photos to us. We really do love seeing what you’ve been up to! If you’re interested in joining the online science club then get in touch with Mrs Hockey for more information. Happy experimenting! (Mrs Hockey – aer53@chadsgrove.worcs.sch.uk)
